THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

After a conference held at Thai Nguyen, the Democratic Republic of Vietnam (DRV) has made changes in the activities, organization and training of guerrilla units in South Vietnam. Beginning in September the following situation will exist.

- Activities of sniping and sabotage groups in South Vietnam should gradually be reduced.
- People who have participated in "liberation work" in the southern regions during the past three years will be assembled for more advanced political education.
- Commanders and political directors of company and higher units in the South Vietnamese guerrilla forces will be sent to North Vietnam for military training and political study.
- The various war areas will select suitable personnel from guerrilla units and organize them into coastal defense, local and enemy-occupied area units depending on the peculiar situation of the area. These units will be in addition to already existing units.
- Supply organization shall have control of the distribution of food supplies, clothing, arms and ammunition to all guerrilla units of South Vietnam.
- Upon implementation of these five projects, command of guerrilla units will be transferred from the provincial government to direct command of the war area in which the units are located.
